IMPORTANT FROM WASHINGTON.

Nineteen Naval Officers Reinstated for Restoration.

Reports of Hostilities Between Spain and Mexico.

Further Debate in the Senate on the Pacific Railroad Bill.

SPEECH OF THE HON. WM. H. SEWARD.

The Pacific Bill—The Collins Investigation—The Case of Naval Officer Hartstene, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

Out of fifty-eight cases of officers retired by the Naval Board, and subsequently referred to the President for his decision, he to-day nominated thirty-five for restoration. Among the number are the following:

Captain—Voorhees.

Commanders—Armstrong and Long.

Lieutenants—Abbott, Barney, Bissell, Carter, Claxton, Gibson, Shaula, Porter, Parry, Hull, and Rodgers.

Lieutenant Wanzer is transferred from the furlough to the leave-pay list.

A motion was made to refer the nominations to the Committee on Naval Affairs. This was objected, after discussion, upon the ground that the Senate takes a recess on Thursday, and that the law allowing the nominations expires on the 1st of January.

The President in his Message transmitting the nominations, expressed his regret that he could not submit Commodore Stewart, inasmuch as he did not permit his case to the Courts of Inquiry, sitting some months ago, and therefore is not covered by the few names which to-day's nominations were made.

Mr. HAMMOND moved a resolution in favor of STEWART's restoration, which was pending when the Senate adjourned.

Reliable intelligence has reached this City that Captain TORRES, in command of the Spanish fleet of Tampico, has notified the Spanish Consul of that place that war now exists between Spain and Mexico, and that he would arrive from Cuba about the 10th of this month, to prosecute hostile operations on the land. This conflicts with the positive statements of Señor TAMAYO, the Spanish Minister to our Government; but a few weeks will inform the public as to the real designs of Spain on Mexico. Our Government has no faith in the war story. Another report says that Spain has taken possession of the bar, which means, I suppose, the fleet which command it.

The bill granting pensions to all the soldiers of the War of 1812, and all the Indian Wars, will pass the House to-morrow. Its fate in the Senate is doubtful.

The Collins Committee of Investigation has adjourned to the 7th of January, because of CULLOM's absence in consequence of illness in his family.

It is stated that the present serious illness of Mr. BUCHANAN almost prevents his immediate removal from the Black Opera.

The friends of the Pacific Railroad bill are very confident to-night that it will pass both Houses during this Session. S.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

The President has sent to the Senate for restoration to the active list of the Navy the names of about thirty-five of the sixty gentlemen, whose cases were investigated by the Naval Courts of Inquiry. Commodore STEWART's would have been among the number, if it was not for the fact that he did not appeal to those tribunals, but the President has intimated that it would afford him much pleasure if Congress would provide for his (STEWART's) restoration to the active list by a special law.

A letter has been received here from a commercial house in Tampico, which states that the arrangement between the Spanish fleet and the Governor of the city, for the settlement of their difficulties, have been broken off, and that two Spanish steamers are now blockading the harbor, and that a Spanish force was daily expected to land at Tampico and take possession of the city.

The form of the Pension bill agreed upon by the House to-day, proposes to give $96 per annum to those who have been in actual battle, without regard to the period of service, and includes within its provisions the regular army, State and Territorial troops, volunteers, or militia, together with the marine corps.

The pensions are secured against attachments for debt.

The Hon. JOHN KELLY has addressed to Speaker ORR a letter resigning his seat as a Member of Congress from New-York, the resignation to take effect on the 20th inst.

THE NEW-YORK POLITICIANS—THE PRESIDENT AND TAMMANY—THE PROPOSED OCCUPATION OF SONORA AND CHIHUAHUA—JUDGE WATROUS—GEN. HOUSTON.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Dec. 20, 1858.

Several of the New-York politicians who came down here to look after the case of Mr. SCHELL, are still in town, as also is the Collector. The Tammany men are in ecstacies over what they consider to be a perfect triumph for their wing of the party, and a humiliating rubbing down of Mr. SCHELL. Although the latter's scale appears to be safe at present, it is evidently in a very tender condition. At the interview between the Tammany men and the President, the other day, the Collector, in the presence of the entire assemblage, protested unequivocally that he had always been for the Tammany organization, had never opposed it, and that he intended to support it hereafter. However little the Tammany men believed of all this, the fact that Mr. SCHELL found it necessary to assume such a position is held by them as a complete triumph.

The President not only declared that he wanted every Federal officeholder to support the Tammany organization,—which he hoped would be liberalized so as to bring the masses of the people into it,—but he also said that any indication of opposition to Tammany would be good cause for the removal of a Federal official, or a clerk in the public employ,—and would be an insuperable bar to the appointment of any man to office. Mr. BUCHANAN declared further, that employes of the Government must not merely give silent assent to the action of Tammany, but must give such action their active support,—that is to say, must contribute money, muscle and brains to "the cause." This is all the "arrangement" which has been made for settlement of the internecine strife among your New-York politicians,—despite the positive protestations of a portion of the Press which intimate that Mr. BUCHANAN has been bold enough to even attempt the cutting of the Gordian knot of New-York Democratic factions. He doubtless intended his declaration, as given above, to have that effect; but no one else than himself can expect such a result. It is supposed that the President, having disposed of this affair, will, at an early day, take up the dispute between Mosquera and the Senate Boy, with a view to settling the vexed question as to which of them is entitled to the Champion's belt.

The Secretary of War has not yet answered the resolution of the House Military Committee, calling for information as to the cost of establishing and keeping up the line of military posts along the frontiers of Sonora and Chihuahua, proposed in the Annual Message. The suggestion that this policy will involve no cost in addition to the present military establishment is undoubtedly erroneous. The Secretary will probably show, however, that it will involve an immense expense of expenditure than ought to be incurred for the proper protection of our own frontier, and as long as the duty of the Army is absolutely essential to the proper discharge of this latter duty, and there can hardly arise any case where no some money will be required for the purpose of holding and protecting the Mexican States, they should be voted at once, even though no such policy had been suggested or thought of at the outset, that it will only be necessary to change the purpose of an already existing line of posts, in order to hold Chihuahua, and Sonora, and protect our exposed frontier property at the same time. There will be much truth and force in such an argument.

Governor Marcy, here, and other gentlemen who had conferred with the Mexican character, express the conviction that the President's openly avowed sympathies for the citizens of Sonora and Chihuahua, and his strong desire, with been the effect of nerving many of the Southern Democrats against a policy which they consider looks to the disintegration of their territory, and will thus make it more difficult than it otherwise would have been, to carry out the plan proposed. Possibly, however, we may get some foreign aid in the scheme. England, for instance, may act upon the hint which our President has given, and seize upon Mexican territory for the benefit of her citizens. Such a contingency would afford an excellent opportunity for pushing the proposition for an American Protectorate over the whole of the Mexican Republic. In her extremity, Mexico will necessarily look to the United States for a loan with which to loosen the relentless claws of the British lion, and we might extend the required aid upon condition that she secures our loan by a treaty providing for the Protectorate, and thus inserting to herself the peace and permanence indispensable to commercial, industrial and financial prosperity. Quien sabe?

Judge WATROUS denies having ever intimated an intention to resign. Certainly he has no present purpose of that sort. He will start for Texas within a few days, to open his Court at Galveston on the first Monday in January. His friends express great gratification at the favorable result of the long pending proceedings against him; and they protest that if he were a candidate to-day for a Judgeship, four-fifths of the people of Texas would give him their cordial support.

Gen. SAM HOUSTON intends, in a speech on the floor of the Senate, at an early day, to declare that he has no aspirations for the Presidency, and would accept it, under no circumstances, if it were laid at his feet to-morrow. I am inclined to believe that the Senator is thoroughly honest with himself and the rest of mankind when he declares that the Presidency has had no charm for him since the election of FRANK PIERCE to that position. The General is hale and hearty yet, has many years of usefulness before him, in all probability, and has too much patriotism to withhold his services from the country at any time when they may be in the future which seems to demand them. XXXVth Congress.—Second Session.

SENATE.....WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

Various memorials of no public interest were presented.

The Senate passed the bill making appropriations for the improvement of the St. Clair Flats, by Ayes 29; Nays 22.

The Pacific Railroad bill came up.

Mr. SEWARD, of New-York, addressed the Senate. He began by saying: The descendants of the Dutch colonists of New-York keep forever bright the memories of their fatherland. When, however, he traveled in Holland, he could hardly find there one lingering question of the settlement of New Netherlands. It is always so. The affection of the emigrant for his native country is ever stronger than the sympathies of that country for its exiles. The Senators from California, as yet only representatives here of society on the Pacific coast, are committed to this great measure, and earnest in its support. So he hoped that if his arguments, in response to them, seemed addressed to the Senators from the Atlantic States they would do him the justice to reflect that it is only on this side of the Rocky Mountains that the snow and ice of indifference and prejudice resist conviction. Mr. SEWARD would not say much concerning the details of the bill. If he were allowed to prescribe the route and the policy of constructing a Pacific Railroad now, he would choose a path which would be a continuation of the road that our great North Western emigration has hitherto followed. He would discard all employment of companies, and all grants of public lands, and would build the road as a military, postal, national highway, with the money and credit of the Federal Government, and surrender the lands along its route, to actual settlers, free of cost. He would increase the revenues by an increase of imports, and create a sinking fund to absorb gradually the public debt. But he had concurred in presenting this bill because it was the only alternative. He admitted there were many objections to which the bill was obnoxious. But the time for deliberation has come to an end, and that for action is to begin. So being earnest in his desire for a Pacific Railroad he would accept this bill. Mr. SEWARD then answered successively the general objections against the construction of the road. Commerce is only an incidental interest in connection with the road. It is wanted first and chiefly for postal and military, that is to say for political purposes. It is a grand error to rely on commerce for such highways in territories, or in countries in which such societies do not exist, or that they can be created with civil society is created. The treaty of Guadaloupe Hidalgo extended the national jurisdiction across the Rocky Mountains to the Pacific, and from that moment the necessity of postal and military highways across was disclosed. Our complications in Utah, Central America and Mexico, and with France and England, are legitimate consequences of a reliance on the routes through foreign countries instead of through our own. He did not pretend to know how long we intend to flounder on in this erroneous policy, but was sure that the interior region will not be settled till the railroad is built, and that probably the Pacific States will not forever remain united to the Atlantic if they are not so united. The fates are always busy in weaving a fatal web for indolent and improvident nations, and it depends on the action of Congress, now, whether Washington shall remain the capital of the whole United States, or only of the United States of the Atlantic, while the City of Mexico becomes the capital of the United States of the Pacific. He would not debate the constitutional powers of Congress to authorize the construction of the road. Even the strictest constructionists admit the power of Congress, in case of real necessity, to construct post roads within the unorganized territories of the United States, and in case of possible danger to construct military roads. Let us impress the fact that the American people number now 30,000,000, and increase at the rate of 1,000,000 annually of free ambitious men. Such a people cannot remain stationary. Activity is a law written in the local Constitution of all States. Under its influence France has disturbed the two hemispheres for two hundred years; Great Britain has extended her dominion around the earth; Spain has discovered and colonized half the globe; and Portugal has reclaimed a large portion of it, which before had been lost. The abolition of feudalism and slavery in modern Europe, and the conversion of the Western nations to Christianity, are results of the same national activity. In obedience to the same law we have rescued the country we inhabit from the domain of Spain, France and Great Britain, and all our renewed diplomatic conflicts are so many manifestations of the energy and ambition of the Americans proper. It is obvious that this activity must take either a martial or civic direction, and that if it do not receive the latter from the hands of the Government, it will force the Government to guide it into the former. How can we otherwise explain from what the constant agitation of the filibuster movement, Ostend Manifesto, and Monroe doctrine proceeds. To him it seemed clear that this peaceful acting, far more than military activity, is for every nation safe, cheap, frugal, and increasing continually the number and wealth of a nation. War is hazardous and desolating, its greatest benefit being obtained at a fearful cost. History teaches that the constant practice of war is incompatible with the permanence of a system of self-government. If he were asked why the British race in this Continent is Republican, he would say because the national activity assumes a peaceful character; monarchical countries assume a military one; if the national activity is to have a peaceful direction, it must be confined to its energies chiefly within our own territory; our domain is already broad enough, and the opportunity for our activity commensurate with it. The necessities of order, safety and union require us to consolidate our energies within it. The Pacific Railroad, with its connections and lines of telegraphs, are the engines by which this consolidation must be effected. He did not shrink from the enterprise because of its magnitude; were it less formidable, it would be less adapted to the spirit and genius of the American people. The enterprise is not really formidable, considered in relation to the benefits of peace, wealth and strength, to be derived from the agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and commercial resources of the region. In conclusion he would say, if national activity is to take a peaceful and beneficial direction, the responsibility of directing it belongs to Congress; it cannot be left to the States; the revenues belong to the Federal Government, and it alone has power to act within the Territories. He called on every Senator to win for himself the gratitude of posterity by connecting his name with this great work. It seemed to him, there is no easier way to win the character, given by the Roman historian to the honored statesman, "He labored for himself with moderation, for the commonwealth with earnestness."

Mr. WARD, of Texas, addressed the Senate in favor of the Texas route. His remarks were indistinctly heard.

Mr. WILSON, of Mass., moved an amendment, that the road shall be between parallels 34° and 43°.

The debate was postponed till to-morrow.

Mr. SEWARD, of New-York, offered a resolution directing the Committee on the Judiciary to report if further legislation is necessary to stop the Slave trade. Mr. DAVIS objecting, it was lost.

Mr. DOUGLAS, of Wisconsin, offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling for the letters between the President of Nicaragua and Commodore Paulding, if there were any such in the Navy Department.

On motion of Mr. SEWARD, the Secretary of War was requested to inform the Senate if any land in New-York harbor can be had for revenue purposes.

Mr. DAVIS, of Mississippi, offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling on the Secretary of War for information respecting the rights of British subjects in Oregon.

Mr. BENNET, from the Building Committee, reported that the new Senate Chamber would be ready for occupancy on Jan. 4.

The President sent through the Secretary of State part of the correspondence of Rodney Minister and Dr. Peters, Ex-Minister to China. He withheld a portion of the correspondence on account of pending negotiations.

A bill was passed to advance HIRAM TOWNE $2,500 for stationery.

The Senate then went into Executive Session, and, on the opening of the doors, adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

Mr. PHELPS, of Missouri, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported bills making appropriations for the consular and diplomatic service, and for the support of the army.

Mr. KILGORE, of Illinois, asked, but did not obtain leave to introduce a resolution instructing the Committee on Territories to report a bill providing for the election of all local officers in the organized territories by the people, they to pay the expenses of the Government; granting lands to actual settlers, and providing that a State Constitution may be formed when there is population enough for one Representative to Congress, the same to be submitted to the people for ratification.

Mr. CAVANDISH, of Minnesota, introduced a bill to organize the Territorial Government of Dakota.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Soldiers' Pension bill.

A number of amendments were offered, debated and rejected.

The enacting clause of the bill was then stricken out by six majority. This had the effect, as was intended, to terminate further proceedings thereon in Committee, and bring the bill into the House.

The Speaker, in reply to a question, said, if the House concur in the recommendation of the Committee to strike out the enacting clause the bill would thereby be defeated.

The question was decided in the negative, 75 against 137.

Mr. SAVAGE, of Tennessee, offered a substitute, which was agreed upon, by unanimous consent, for the bill, proposing pensions to all who served 60 days or more, or were engaged in the actual war of 1812 or during that period. The benefits of the act are extended to the Marine Corps. In the event of the death of a pensioner, his widow is to receive the pension during her natural life. The pensions are graduated as follows: For 12 months' service and upwards, $96; for 6 months and upwards, not 12 months, $75; and for 60 days and upwards, not exceeding 6 months, $50 per annum.

Mr. FERROT, of New-Jersey, offered a substitute, providing that the pensions which have been or may be granted to various classes of persons shall be considered to commence with the time of their wounds or other disabilities, and be calculated according to the existing pension laws; in case of the death of the pensioner, his widow, or children, or next of kin, to receive the pension, etc.

Mr. FERROT's substitute was rejected by two majority.

Mr. SAVAGE's substitute was agreed to—122 against 61.

Pending the question on the passage of the amended bill, the House adjourned.

United States Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

No. 28.—Wm. E. Mason vs. Henry Van Phul et al. Error to the Circuit Court for the Northern District of Illinois. Cause dismissed for want of jurisdiction.

No. 29.—Daniel H. Lowndsale et al. vs. Josiah L. Parrish.—Argument continued on both sides.

The Southern Pacific Railroad.

NEW-ORLEANS, Monday, Dec. 20.

The stockholders of the Southern Pacific Railroad met here in Convention to-day.

General RICHARDSON offered a resolution requiring the stockholders present to register the amount of stock they represented, so that a majority of shares might decide the questions that came up.

A heated discussion then arose on Mr. CAUSSIN's charging that there had been an issue of fraudulent stock, and saying that he made the statement on the authority of Mr. HAWKINS.

Professor FOWLER made a telling speech in reply to Mr. CAUSSIN.

Col. FOX also replied to some charges of Mr. ARCHER's, and read from a balance-sheet, showing that the liabilities for stock, including free donations, were $2,000,000. Colonel F. then said that he had over $400,000 of the stock, which his Northern friends had freely surrendered.

The explanations strengthened the confidence in the New-Orleans stockholders, disarmed the suspicion which had been created, and restored harmony to the Convention.

Accident to the Steamer Aubrey, and Loss of Life.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

The steamer Aubrey met with an accident, a few miles above here, last night, by which four or five lives were lost. The boat ran on the wreck of a sunken steamer, bursting the steam-pipe, connecting with the mud-receiver, which caused a panic among the deck-passengers, who, rushing en masse into the yawl, upset it, and several were drowned. Their names are unknown.

Railroad Casualty.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Tuesday, Dec. 21.

CORNELIUS H. VANDERVEER, of Somerville, was instantly killed to-day on the Jersey Central Railroad. He was walking on the track, when a passenger train of thirteen cars and a coal train of fifty passed over his body, which was dreadfully mangled. It is thought that he must have been deaf and did not hear the train coming along.

Unsafe Condition of the Northern Railway.

TORONTO, C. W., Tuesday, Dec. 21.

The Government Inspector has ordered the stoppage of passenger trains on the Northern Railway, considering it unsafe to allow them to be run. Freight trains with a passenger coach attached will, however, continue to be run at reduced speed. Considerable excitement exists in consequence of this along the line of the road.

Paulsen's Blindfold Chess Matches.

PITTSBURG, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

The game of chess between LEWIS PAULSEN and ten of the Pittsburg Chess Club opened at 2 P. yesterday, and closed at 1 o'clock this morning. Mr. PAULSEN, blindfold, won six games, and lost four.

The Kansas City Telegraph Line.

NEW-ORLEANS, Monday, Dec. 20.

The Kansas City Telegraph line, now in operation from St. Louis to Leavenworth, opened at this point for business to-day.

The Echo and the Wanderer—Views of the Administration Organs.

From the Union of Tuesday.

It is highly probable that a cargo of slaves have been landed in one of the States of the Union. We are in possession of no specific information on the subject; there are, nevertheless, many reasons to believe that the question has assumed a practical shape, and perhaps it should be so treated by the public. In the case of the Echo, and the proceedings of the tribunals thereon, candor compels us to admit that our institutions have failed. The laws have not been executed as they ought to have been, and, as we believe, nine-tenths and more of the American people desire they should be. We say, therefore, that our institutions in the case referred to have failed. They have failed to the extent of screening, instead of punishing offenders. This is clearly a misfortune—a great, radical, fundamental misfortune. Every one at all conversant with the structure of our system, knows that the punishment of crime is mainly intrusted to juries, to be drawn from the people. If the community of the place refuses to enforce penal laws, we see no adequate remedy therefor, nor can we call it an thing else than a failure of our institutions. The evil, we repeat, is fundamental, because it is acknowledged to be without remedy, in the fact it prevails in opposition to the majority of the American people. Assuming that the Wanderer, as reported, has landed a cargo of slaves in one of the ports of Georgia, and that the captives are being distributed and sold throughout that State, we have a right to infer that it is in accordance with public opinion. If the people of Georgia are opposed to the slave-trade, and to the recognition of slave property, of such a tenure, we take it to be the clearest thing in the world that they will punish the offenders, and if their statutes are defective, enact others, by which all parties, acting with knowledge of the facts, shall be held to proper account. It is hardly fair to suppose that the laws of Georgia have been framed to meet the contingency to which we allude. The Federal tribunals have undoubted jurisdiction of the original offenders; but they stand a good chance of honestly executing the laws in a community who not only winks at the crime committed, but voluntarily and knowingly aid the criminals, rendering their unlawful schemes profitable and safe.

We need not express the horror and disgust of an honest, law-abiding people at such scenes of reckless, depravity and cupidity. If the people of the State intended to have no respect for the judgment of their countrymen, they may well take upon themselves the responsibility of assuming our national character and our Federal institutions. The distinction between those who violate the law, and those who refuse to execute it, is wholly inappreciable. We rely quite as much upon public intelligence and virtue as upon the police and the courts. We have no standing army, and a very small executive force. Our whole political system is based to a great extent upon the idea of good intentions on the part of the people themselves as upon good faith on the part of their agents. The latter, indeed, can never compel, unless without the assistance and aid of the former. If Georgia, or Georgians, are determined to import slaves and to make clear the Federal authorities will be confined, in their efforts to suppress the traffic, wholly to the high seas, where their jurisdiction is complete.

But perhaps, granting that the Wanderer has landed slaves upon our coast, it is only one of those fatal events which so often overtake us and which serve rather to purify than poison the atmosphere; another Burns Hall, rather, a partisan enterprise—an Exeter Hall demonstration. We trust it may turn out.

Important Proceedings in the Board of State Canvassers.

IRREGULARITY IN THE RETURNS FOR CONGRESSMEN.

From the Albany Statesman of Tuesday Evening.

The Board met Monday for the purpose of completing the canvass of votes cast in November last. The canvass of the votes for Governor and Canal Commissioner were carefully examined, found to be correct, and the estimates were signed.

The returns of the votes cast in eleven counties were made for "State Prison Inspector." There is no law recognizing the existence of such an officer. The returns should have been made for "Inspector of State Prisons." The Board, by a unanimous vote, determined to reject the returns thus made as informal. We give the names of the counties and the votes cast in each for Inspector:

	Bryant.	Dorsey.	Smith.
Allegany	4,171	1,289	684
Dutchess	6,669	4,981	717
Franklin	1,649	2,147	780
Genesee	89	3,008	1,060
Richmond	816	1,244	821
Schuyler	1,904	1,494	870
Steuben	1,287	2,100	882
Sullivan	1,879	1,673	1,041
Tioga	1,269	1,687	1,077
Tompkins	3,462	1,947	760
Wyoming	3,244	1,361	346
Total	35,755	34,634	8,409

The Board estimated and signed the votes cast for Assembly in the Thirty-first District, but refused to notify the fact that the voters of the Eleventh District had been electing a Senator in place of MANDEVILLE, who had vacated his seat, by accepting and entering upon the discharge of the duties of Postmaster at Brooklyn Falls.

When the Board proceeded to estimate the votes cast for Congress, they found the returns from the counties of New-York, Herkimer, Cortland and Erie, had been made for "Member of Congress," instead of "Representative in Congress," as required by the statute. After a protracted debate, the Board, by a vote of three to two, determined to reject the erroneous returns.

The effect of this determination is, to declare vacancies in the Third, Fourth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Thirty-second Districts. Messrs. SICKLES, BARR, COCHRANE, BARNES, CLARK and SPAULDING should have received the certificates of election from these districts, had the returns been made according to law. Messrs. SICKLES, BARR, COCHRANE and CLARK are Democrats. Mr. BARNES is American, and Mr. SPAULDING Republican.

In the Fifth District, the defect in the returns from the Seventh and Thirteenth Wards, in the City of New-York, throws out Mr. MACLAY, Administration Democrat, while the returns from the County of Kings, being correct, elects HAMILTON, Independent Democrat.

The defect in the Herkimer returns does not affect the result in the Seventeenth District—the vote in St. Lawrence being sufficient to save Mr. SPINNER. Neither is the result in the Twenty-first District changed by the defect in the returns from Cortland County—Chenango and Broome still giving a sufficient vote to return Mr. DUELL.

For the purpose of ascertaining, if the abstract of the returns from the County of New-York were a correct transcript from the returns filed in the office of the County Clerk, the Board of State Canvassers sent a special messenger to New-York.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

ALBANY, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

Information has been received from Spaulding's District, the Thirty-second, certifying that the error in his return is simply clerical. He will therefore receive a certificate of election.

EVENING SESSION.

The Board of State Canvassers reassembled at 10½ P. M.

The Special Messenger who had been sent to New-York to ascertain the facts relating to the returns for the Congressional Districts, presented the following statement from the County Clerk:

State of New-York, City and County of New-York

I, RICHARD B. CONNOLLY, Clerk of the County of New-York, do certify that as such Clerk I am intrusted by law with the election returns for the different districts of such County, for the election held in the month of November of each year, in and for such City and County. That my attention having been directed to an apparent informality existing in the statements prepared by the Board of County Canvassers of the County of New-York from my returns filed in my office, as aforesaid, in November last, duplicates of which statements were returned to the Board of State Canvassers. I examined the returns in my office, and found that a clerical informality, apparently, of a somewhat unpleasant character really existed, and had been made in their preparation either by the printer or by the person authorized by law to have such returns prepared. Such informality existed in the employment of the term "Member of Congress," when the proper designation of the office should have been "Representative in Congress." Had not the law of the State, in relation to the manner and mode of conducting elections, been ample and provisional in the provision for remedying such informality might have been irremediable; but fortunately, one of its provisions requiring copies of each ticket voted for to be attached to the returns filed in the office of the Clerk the whole misapprehension vanishes away, and the informality, for such it clearly appears to be, is satisfactorily explained, for by an examination of such returns it appears that in each Congressional District throughout the City a copy of the ticket voted for in such Congressional District has been attached to the returns filed in my office, and by an examination of such ticket I find that it is regular in its form, the following being a copy of the tickets voted for in the respective districts, and attached to the returns.

For Representative in Congress, DANIEL E. SICKLES.
For Representative in Congress, THOMAS J. BARR.
For Representative in Congress, GEORGE BARNES.
For Representative in Congress, HORACE F. CLARK.

That the tickets of which the foregoing are copies were the tickets voted for in each of the respective Districts in which they belonged, as appears from such examination made on the returns filed in my office, but that in making up the returns to be filed in my office, in accordance with the law in such case made and provided, the Clerks of the different Election Districts of the City followed the defective blank returns or statements furnished them by the person whose duty it was by law to furnish the same, and thus this informality, so clearly and satisfactorily explained, arose.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal, this 21st of December, 1858.

(Signed,) RICHARD B. CONNOLLY,
Clerk of the County of New-York.

After a long time consumed in the business of correcting the returns and making them conform to the actual certificates of the County Canvassers and in desultory conversation, on motion of Comptroller CHEEKS, a certificate was agreed to setting forth the plain facts in the case, and declaring that while the Board of State Canvassers cannot give to in the members elect in the districts named their official certificates, in consequence of the informality in the informality in the returns, they yet recognize the the fact that from the certificates of the Board of County Canvassers it appears that the members stated to have received the highest number of votes did actually receive such highest number of votes for the office of Representative in Congress.

This leaves the House of Representatives at liberty to decide, as they doubtless will soon after the organization, that the members from the Districts named are duly elected.

A resolution was adopted reprobating the manner in which returns are made by Boards of County Canvassers, and at 1 A. M. the Board of State Canvassers adjourned sine die.

This result will give the Opposition the House, and as the District of DANIEL E. SICKLES is contested, it may debar him from taking his seat.

HAVANA.

Arrival of the Black Warrior.

The U. S. Mail Steamship Black Warrior, J. W. Shaw, commander, from New Orleans and Havana, arrived here yesterday afternoon. She was detained all the morning outside the bar by a dense fog.

Owing to a very heavy fog, the Black Warrior was unable to leave the Mississippi until the morning of the 19th, arrived at Havana on the evening of the 15th, and left there the next day at 2½ P. M.

The news from Havana is devoid of interest. The Opera was flourishing, and the health of the city perfect. The new Dry Dock will be ready for work in about two months. The Sugar market was dull and would continue so until after the holidays. Stock on hand 20,000 boxes, Nos. 11 and 12, 8¼ to 8½ rials per arroba. Freights dull, and no present prospect of improvement.

Exchange on London 15% to 15 premium; Exchange on New York 2 to 3% premium; Exchange on New Orleans 5% premium.

Senator DOUGLAS, lady and children were passengers in the Black Warrior from New Orleans for Havana.

The Alzea Case—Memorial sent to Congress in regard to Mexican Outrages.

The following memorial, addressed to Senator MASON, is on the Senate files at Washington, and is of interest in connection with the narrative of the ALZEA case, which we have already published:

Hon. James M. Mason, Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs:

SIR: By request of the Hon. W. M. GWIN, Senator from California, I make the following statement respecting the capture of an American citizen named JESUS M. ALZEA, and other outrages committed by a party of Mexican troops at my store in Arizona, April, 1857.

At this period, Mr. ARCHIBALD BELKNAP, a merchant of San Francisco, and myself were engaged in mining and trading in Arizona. We had a trading post at the junction of the Gila with the Colorado, and near the Mexican line and about two miles from the Pueblo of Sonoita in the State of Sonora, and one of Caborca.

In accordance with a request I made of Mr. BELKNAP, the latter part of 1856, to send me a capable young man to take charge of the store at Sonoita, he wrote to JESUS M. ALZEA, then on a visit to Sonora, to join me at Sonoita. He had just recently left the employ of Mr. BELKNAP, having served an apprenticeship of four or five years in the mercantile establishment of that gentleman in San Francisco, and was little more than 21 years of age. His father, a resident from Sonora to California at an early day with 12 children. The entire interests of the family are in California, all members thereof claiming and enjoying the privileges of American citizens. The daughters are married to Americans. General CRABB, the leader of the party of Americans who entered Sonora, married one of the ALZEAS.

JESUS M. ALZEA arrived at Sonoita in January, 1857, and took charge of the establishment at that point. General CRABB and party entered the country in March. At this time I was engaged in passing back and forth on the frontier, superintending the transportation of goods from our main depôt on the Colorado to the establishments in the interior.

On my return trip from Calabasas to the River Colorado vid Sonoita, I found on arriving at the latter place that General CRABB and party had passed down into Sonora some fifteen or twenty days before. This was in the early part of April. I dispatched a train of merchandise to Calabasas and was about to pursue my journey on to the Colorado, when ARCO VIZARS, the Pueblo Chief, came and informed me that two of his Indians had come over the mountains from Caborca, one hundred and thirty miles below in Sonora, with news that I ought to have. I immediately followed him to his rancharia near by, and there two Papagos told me that a fight had taken place at Caborca between the Mexicans and Americans—that every American was killed, and that troops might be expected at Sonoita to kill four sick Americans Gen. CRABB had left there when he passed down, and then lying helpless in the Pueblo. The long-continued silence on the frontier in relation to CRABB's movements gave probability to this story, and as a matter of precaution, I went to these four sick Americans and advised their removal to my house on the American side of the line. That evening they were removed to my house with considerable difficulty. One was carried on a litter the entire distance. After waiting three days more and obtaining no additional news, I left for the river Colorado, Friday evening, April 17. The four sick men occupied my house in the rear of the store, Mr. ALZEA remaining in charge. I had scarcely left the place, when a body of Mexican troops, twenty-six in number, arrived at the Pueblo of Sonoita. Here they waited till midnight, when they proceeded to my house, seized the four men in their beds, bound them, and the next morning at daylight they pushed and kicked them out of the house over a bank near by and then shot the four Americans, each soldiers firing without order and promiscuously. This fiendish act being accomplished, the bodies were left exposed to wild beasts. The soldiers then broke open the store, pillaged it and scattered and destroyed the books and accounts. They then took their way back to Sonora with JESUS M. ALZEA a prisoner, greatly disappointed, I learn, that they had not caught and shot me with the other Americans, simply, I suppose, because I had given these sick and helpless countrymen shelter. It was well known on the frontier that I had no sympathy or connection with Gen. CRABB and his party, and the commanding officer in Sonora could not get frontier Mexicans to do this murderous job. The assassins dispatched them from the Southern part of the State, and the officer in command was a refugee Chilano.

In the month of August following, learning that Mr. ALZEA had been tried in Sonora and condemned to be shot or imprisoned, I received upon a trip to Guaymas, partly for mercantile purposes and partly to see if something could not be done for ALZEA. I got through the State of Sonora, without any difficulty, but on arriving at Guaymas, preparations to arrest and imprison me were at once commenced; but on finding my transactions with several prominent parties in Guaymas involved the payment of some considerable sums of money, which would not be forthcoming in case I was imprisoned, an influence was brought to bear which put a stop to all proceeding against me.

On inquiring into the cause of the intention to imprison me, I was told that the declarations of JESUS M. ALZEA made out a case against me as a filibuster—that he declared himself a Mexican citizen, and the less I said in his favor, the better it would be for me. Finding I could not see ALZEA, then in prison at Guaymas, and could do nothing for him, I completed my business and returned to Arizona.

The robbery and murder accomplished by Mexican troops at the store near Sonoita, and likely to be repeated at any time, entirely destroyed the interests of BELKNAP & DUNBAR at that point, and in all that region, so that I was obliged, under the most disadvantageous circumstances, to concentrate all our business at the most remote point—Calabasas.

It was to this point I returned from Sonora, and some time subsequent to my return, I was informed by ALZEA's friends in San Francisco, that he had managed to communicate to them that the declarations he made on trial was a forced one, forced from him on the penalty of his life, in order to give some shadow of excuse for the massacre and robbery at my establishment near Sonoita and his own capture.

JESUS M. ALZEA came with me as an American citizen, lived with me as an American citizen, and according to all the knowledge I possess in the matter, is an American citizen, now held in Mexico under sentence of five years' imprisonment.

Very respectfully, your obd't serv't,
EDWARD E. DUNBAR.

Execution at Columbus, O.—Dying Blasphemies of a Murderer.

From the Cincinnati Gazette.

One of the most painful scenes which has ever come within our experience was witnessed at the execution of ALEXIS MYERS, for the murder of BARNABAS NEVILLE, (both formerly convicts in the Penitentiary) at Columbus, yesterday, Dec. 17.

On the 26th of May last, MYERS, who was sentenced to three years' imprisonment for horse-stealing in Clark County, without any apparent cause, struck and beat out the brains of his fellow convict, NEVILLE, who was under a three years' sentence for horse-stealing in Athens County. MYERS was convicted in September, 1857, and NEVILLE in November, 1856. MYERS was taken from the prison and tried for the murder, and convicted and sentenced to be hung on the 3d day of September last. Subsequently, the question of insanity was presented to the Governor, and he granted a respite until yesterday for the purpose of having a medical jury pass upon that question, who gave an opinion that he was sane, and the Governor declined to interfere further in the execution of the law.

From the time of the commission of the murder, MYERS exhibited the utmost indifference as to his fate, frequently telling those who called upon him to "hang him and be d——d," adding, with an air of determined bravado, "I'll fill the entire 13d full!" The ministers of the gospel who offered him the consolations of religion, he spurned from his cell with oaths that chocked the strongest nerves, or would tell them, as on one occasion, "If you want to pray, pitch in, and pray like h-ll!" He would listen to no advice, never expressed, in word or deed, the least sorrow for the murder, but frequently declared that if he had an opportunity, he would do the same thing over again. In this condition of mind he has remained constantly, even to the last hour of his existence.

Yesterday morning the Rev. Mr. WARREN, Chaplain in the Penitentiary, called upon MYERS in his cell, as he had frequently done before, but the condemned man refused to listen to him. Another minister of the city also endeavored to engage him in serious conversation, but met with no better success. MYERS utterly refused to accept of their kind offices, and met their advances with the reply, "I want nothing to say to you, and don't wish to be bothered!"

Immediately upon entering the inclosure, MYERS ascended the steps, twelve in number, to the platform, without assistance, or showing the least feeling. The Sheriff and his Deputy led the condemned forward upon the fatal drop, and as the former ascended to fasten the rope to the beam, MYERS took hold of the rope, and addressing the twenty or thirty persons in the yard below him, remarked in a light, jocose way, "If I can hold on to this, I think I can save myself yet!"

Not a muscle of his features moved, and his eye glared as brightly and steadily upon the up-turned faces as though he was an indifferent spectator, instead of the principal actor in the painful scene. While the Sheriff was still engaged in adjusting the rope, MYERS again addressed the crowd as follows:

"You can hang me when everything is clear. I wish you all a safe journey, some time, through the wilderness, by J——s Ch——st!"

The fine and manner and language of the hardened criminal caused a shudder of horror amongst the spectators, who had hardly recovered from their surprise, when he threw his apple and an escape to the ground below, and exclaimed in a loud voice, "Fix them up, you d——d d——d rascals!" And with the most stoical indifference he continued to gaze with unflinching eyes upon those before him.

At the conclusion of the prayer, the prisoner exhibited the only emotion which had been discovered thro

New-Haven, Tuesday, Dec. 21.

[illegible] Yesterday, Mr. Brian, Assistant Attorney-General, [illegible] Then public curiosity relaxed [illegible] The trial of the Court-room was have thronged the Court-room [illegible] many days of the trial were [illegible] by the appearance of Horace [illegible] Every one will recognize [illegible] of the individual whom Mrs. [illegible] has so frequently [illegible] The gentleman has by no [illegible] of a gay bachelor. He is quite [illegible] height, and [illegible] frame. He is perhaps the [illegible] of age; his dark brown hair and [illegible] have [illegible] and moustache have [illegible] to grow, they do not give him by any [illegible] the air of a fashionable roué. On the stand he [illegible] the attention of the gentlemen. At times his lips [illegible] and [illegible] seemed [illegible] without disturbance. His testimony was given in a [illegible] manner, the expressions of the witnesses for [illegible] the Doctor, were almost [illegible] his emphatic denial of some of [illegible] statements of the witnesses for [illegible] attracted a great deal of attention and [illegible] the crowded audience. During the cross-examination, which was rather protracted and trying, he exhibited his self-possession, giving all his replies [illegible] and deliberation, and when he left [illegible] it was not apparent that his direct testimony had been weakened in any material point. Dr. Bennett [illegible] over Mr. Webster's shoulder, eagerly [illegible] the witness made, but he is so [illegible] not laugh at any of the [illegible] and long after the spectators had recovered their composure. Mrs. Bennett [illegible] more rapidly than ever, now and then stopping [illegible] on the table with her pencil, or to [illegible] her counsel. Now that Mr. [illegible] through, it may be reasonably inferred that [illegible] portion of the trial is past. The [illegible] testimony will occupy to-morrow and [illegible] the last witness will then have to take [illegible] there is no probability of [illegible] concluded the present week. I was [illegible] to-day to look of my report in the middle of [illegible] testimony, and resume at that point, Judge [illegible] before producing the direct examination.

Question.—Did you go at any time with Mrs. B. to visit any gallery in New-Haven? when was it, [illegible] suggestion? Answer.—While I was in [illegible] "Greek Slave" was on exhibition, [illegible] one of my calls at Dr. B.'s he requested me to go with Mrs. B.; he furthermore insisted upon paying the quarter of a dollar for admission; I went with Mrs. B.

Q.—Do you recollect being at East Haven, at Miss Tuttle's, and being requested to ride with Mrs. B.? A.—One afternoon, when I was in College, Miss Tuttle was to New-Haven, I got a carriage and [illegible] and the Doctor also took Mrs. B. in another carriage; we all stopped at the house of your father, (Mr. Tuttle,) and went in; when we were ready to return, the Doctor started off very suddenly, drove off, and turned to me and called to me to bring his wife home; I did so; they were then in Cherry-street; I think I took one lady with Miss Tuttle and Mrs. B.; but never rode with Mrs. B. alone, except at that time; in the fall of 1857 I received a letter from Mrs. B. asking me to come to and make a New-Year's call; I did not comply; the last time I knew or heard anything from Mrs. B. was some two or three months after that, when I received another letter, I think from Mrs. B., saying she was going to be in New-York at a certain time, and that the Doctor had requested me to come back with her and pay them a visit; I did so; and found that the Doctor was very cordial and very glad to see me, and learned from him that he had sent me the invitation; a colored woman came up with Mrs. B.; as I understood it, the Doctor procured the carriage expressly for me, and sent it to me by Mrs. B.; the Doctor was waiting for us on my arrival, and I concluded that he had wished me to come up, and had given the invitation; I had sent the tickets by Mrs. B.; this was in the Spring of 1858; I arrived on Saturday afternoon, and left early Monday morning; I was teaching at the time, and that was all the spare time I had; it was necessary for me to return before nine o'clock Monday morning; nothing remarkable occurred on Sunday evening, it was talked over that I must leave very early Monday morning, before the Doctor and Mrs. B. were up, and I suppose that I would not have any trouble at any rate in getting up and leave without disturbing them at all; Doctor and Mrs. B. insisted that I should stay and have a cup of tea before I left in the morning; Mrs. B. prepared me a cup of tea; it was here, I believe, according to the evidence of Miss Lewis, that the alleged avowal of love took place.

[illegible] interrupting the witness at this point, [illegible] did not see her this evidence was [illegible] what that gentleman intended to prove.

Mr. B. F. Baldwin.—This is a strange state of affairs, [illegible] We offer the evidence of this man to disprove the charge that Dr. Bennett has made against the [illegible] of his wife. He charges her with adultery with Mr. Smith. It is true that he [illegible] charge her with adultery directly in his [illegible] It is true that the counsel for Dr. Bennett in his opening statement took particular pains to state that while Mrs. Bennett had been guilty of gross indecorum, it was not charged that there was any [illegible] criminal in them. The Doctor gave us no notice [illegible] anything criminal was alleged against his wife, when they found us here in Court [illegible] to meet that charge—when they found us here shackled, bound hand and foot and [illegible] without a dollar in her pocket to conduct her case; and when your Honor was compelled to refuse her an order for even a dollar to bear her expenses, then they introduce this shameful evidence, this Scipio story, and others like it, amounting in [illegible] to a charge of adultery—evidence that they have left the impression upon the mind of every one who believed it that this woman had been guilty of that crime. They brought in a story about clasping [illegible], from which the impression was drawn, by every one and women who read it, that criminal intercourse was committed, and this evidence has gone into all the public prints, and has gone through the United States, and wherever it has gone, has left that impression. And now, when we attempt to prove, by the testimony of a witness, that these charges are; when we attempt to show that there was any improper intercourse with Mrs. Bennett, and whether it is or not, we are [illegible] any of these stories are true—the [illegible] objection.—"O don't prove that; don't prove that." Can you sit quiet, your Honor, and listen to such a course as this? Can you permit it, that when [illegible] have brought this perjured rascal from [illegible] and I think more of him than of the man who [illegible] when they introduce such [illegible] we attempt to rebut it——

[illegible] (Interrupting)—Do you mean to charge [illegible] I have kept still long enough. I ask you, in all fairness, Your Honor, is this justice, that when [illegible] are made against this unprotected wo[illegible]

Mr. Bennett.—(Interrupting)—We have not charged [illegible]

Mr. Baldwin.—Oh, no! of course not. But how [illegible] prove adultery? Do you ever catch the [illegible] in the act? Do you not always establish it by circumstantial evidence? I mean to state the matter [illegible] so that the public shall know what I [illegible] this woman [illegible] adultery, in the only way in which [illegible] can be ever proved, by circumstantial [illegible] We have not charged [illegible] We have [illegible] to prove anything criminal. We have [illegible] this [illegible] Now, when you have put on the stand this witness, [illegible] and attempt to ask [illegible] questions, whether or not charges are true, you [illegible] to have you [illegible] to prove anything criminal.

Mr. Bennett.—I do not charge whatever. They only went out to Saltonstall and were off in the woods all day. [illegible] criminal at all. And this when [illegible] have circulated all over the country, [illegible] read them knows that is what [illegible] the import of this evidence, and [illegible] prove a criminal act; and by [illegible] it is intended to fasten this [illegible] upon this woman, though Mr. Bennett has not the courage to stand up in his place [illegible] and say that yes on record, I charge [illegible] that this trial of broken friendship [illegible] kind of charge. And now [illegible] to prove no such thing; but he has [illegible] to our introducing evidence to prove that [illegible] I have, your Honor, that this [illegible] and that we shall be allowed to [illegible] evidence of Mr. Smith to these points. [illegible] in reply, and he was surprised [illegible] the contrary, he [illegible] the testimony of the witnesses for the prosecution, for his counsel [illegible] the testimony of the witnesses for the defence, [illegible] to prove anything criminal.

Mr. Baldwin.—Then why

Doctor Holmes' New Poem.

[illegible] reading the hard rain of last evening [illegible] Church, was well filled by a very [illegible] to hear Doctor HOLMES' poem of "The [illegible] Oliver Ingersoll." The poem is not a continuous [illegible], but a series of four poems, each complete [illegible] in subject, illustrating the theme, and [illegible] Professor, recited his poem [illegible] Latin Finale. He commenced, with a prologue [illegible] the feelings of an old player, who returning [illegible] for the last time on the stage of his former [illegible] looks round upon the scene of his old triumphs [illegible] the end of his career, with its brilliant [illegible]. The episode tells, and the poet begins his [illegible] story, describing, with great beauty, the sylvan [illegible] of Oliver Ingersoll in Boston Bay, [illegible] the mystery of his life being revealed. But, in [illegible] "The Prophet's Banquet," the hearty [illegible] of the old life is contrasted [illegible] with a very humor worthy [illegible] of the Breakfast-Table, the gayest [illegible] of the Poet's Society, a brief sketch of a Gifted [illegible] Poet Gazer for a physician. The [illegible] "Mother's Secret," the story of Mary [illegible] the secret of her Heavenly Son, [illegible] the discovered him in the Temple disputing with the Doctors. This was the "Poem of the Whole": it was [illegible] in tone and dignified in manner, with a [illegible] pathos, in strange contrast with the lighter [illegible] of the other three. He then closed by a [illegible] of a great statesman, which was [illegible] at the moment by Webster, who died after [illegible] his attempts in the Senate, with an unqualified [illegible] in behalf of a price which can only be [illegible] by those who stoop to base designs, and not by those whose nature soars above the [illegible] of courses, the Presidential chair. The poem was a novelty, in [illegible] full of brilliant epigrams, and [illegible] of character and natural scenery, [illegible] more highly prized than by saying it was worthy of its author's reputation.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

A CURIOUS CASE FOR THE MEDICAL FACULTY.—On Sunday evening last Coroner RENAUD was notified to hold an inquest on the body of JOHN FARRIS, who had died suddenly at the corner of Jackson and Furman streets. A jury was impanelled, and adjourned on Monday. As there was no apparent cause of death, as usual in similar cases a post-mortem examination was ordered. Dr. McLaughlin was invited to attend to this part of the case. He called in his old Drs. Mason and Cooke. Upon viewing the body, the chest, neck, and head presented an enormous appearance—so much so that it made the deceased appear to have been a large, muscular man, which was the reverse of the fact. Pressing the finger on the surface of the skin produced a light, crunching noise. Upon removing the sternum, and opening the cavities of the chest, a most singular appearance was presented. In the left cavity of the chest was found the stomach, which, a portion of the transverse colon, and a further examination revealed the fact that the diaphragm, which separates the cavity from the digestive organs, and the chest, the diaphragm, had been ruptured, making an opening some four inches in length, through which the parts named had been forced. The stomach also had ruptured, through which the contents had passed into the chest. The foreign matter thrown into this cavity filled the left side, where the coils of bowel and the heart to the right side, thereby completely displacing it. It is reported that the bloated external appearance spoken of was caused by a rupture of the pleura from which gas from the stomach passed through the cutaneous membranes. The friends of the deceased stated that he was enjoying his usual health up to Saturday last, when he took a dose of salts. Not having the desired effect by Sunday morning he took another dose, which operated, and feeling better he went out to walk. Returning in the latter part of the day, he commenced vomiting violently, and died within half an hour, and before medical aid could be called. The vomiting, doubtless, caused the injury to the diaphragm and the succeeding symptoms disclosed his internal arrangements, as above. The deceased was a native of Ireland, and was 32 years of age, and worked for his mother in a store on Jackson-street. The Jury, after hearing the medical testimony yesterday, rendered a verdict that death was caused by "a rupture of the diaphragm and escape of the stomach into the cavity of the left chest, and subsequent rupture of the stomach."

THE LEGION CASES.—The trial of parties indicted for selling liquor without license was commenced in the Court of Sessions yesterday. A formidable array of well-fed counsel appeared for the defendants, inside the usual number of motions—quite ready to pass an appeal upon if their clients desire it [illegible] were defeated, and proceeded to the trial of cases. Five in all were tried during the day. One was acquitted owing to the absence of all witnesses for the prosecution, and the others were found guilty. There are about fifty Brooklyn indictments in all, and the District Attorney is determined to dispose of the lot by Friday, which will be sentence day.

RESCUED ARRESTED.—The Police of the Fifteenth Precinct, yesterday morning arrested three boys, viz., Wm. Kennedy, Michael McELROY and John [illegible], on charges of being thieves. Just [illegible] the station-house they were rescued by a gang who followed the wind of Mr. LEARY, at the foot of South-Fourth-st., and [illegible] the gang and obtained $12, mostly in pennies.

Yucatan.

By the way of Havana we receive advices from Merida to Dec. 1.

On the 24 of October the authority of the Constitutionalists had been definitely established in that city, Don Lorenzo Iturralde, being inaugurated as Governor. A large number of resignations of civil officials and desertions from the army had followed.

At Campeachy, Oct. 22, there was an unusual excitement, in consequence of dangerous conspiracy among the Indianists claiming currency. The Government at once took energetic measures to discover and arrest the conspirators. The result was the capture and imprisonment of a considerable number, who at the latest advices were still awaiting trial.

Much interest was felt in the preparations for a new expedition against the Indians. On Nov. 20, a commission of three leading citizens was ordered to meet at the Capital to deliberate on a plan of proceedings; and the Government was accumulating necessary supplies.

The general appreciation of the intelligent reading public, and the increasing circulation of this Magazine, furnish the concurrence with ample proof that its aims are appreciated, and that it has met an acknowledged want. The general features which have given the ATLANTIC its popularity will be adhered to, carefully preserved and new attractions will be added from time to time.

The Publishers take pleasure in announcing that "The Minister's Wooing," a serial story by Mrs. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE,
(begun in the December number,) will be continued through the ensuing volume. It is not necessary to dwell upon the popular reputation of the author as a writer, nor upon the interest and curiosity with which the opening chapters of this story have been received. The scene of the story is laid in New-England, at the period immediately following the Revolution, in which the author will have full opportunity for the display of her varied powers.

The engravings of the ATLANTIC are stereotyped, and back numbers can be supplied.

Terms, $3 per annum, or twenty-five cents for a number. Upon the receipt of the subscription price, the Publishers will mail this work to any part of the United States, prepaid. Subscriptions may begin with either the first or any subsequent number.

CLUBS.—For Two Dollars the Publishers will send five copies of the ATLANTIC for one year, the subscribers to pay their own postage.

Clergymen, Teachers and Postmasters will receive the work for Two Dollars a year.

Booksellers and News Agents will obtain the same by the hundred, on a commission to the booksellers.

The First Nugget from the richest mine ever opened in Literature.
CHARITY GREEN;
OR, THE VARIETIES OF LOVE,
by
Tennyson Hargrave.
600 pp. 12mo. Cloth, $1.25.
By arrangement with the London publishers, the subscriber is enabled to announce that this work will be issued
FRIDAY MORNING, Dec. 24.
This book is peculiarly appropriate to the Holiday season, as its principal scenes transpire upon Christmas Day.
For beauty of style, cleanness of language, graphic delineation and striking, and startling and poetic power, it is unapproachable. With keen and polished humor, genial and overflowing with the tenderest sentiments and relations of the human heart, are here presented and illustrated by a master hand.
Through scenes of thrilling interest and adventure, which prevent the book from leaving the hand until its perusal is completed, the author carries the reader with him, conversing constantly to the loving heart still wrapt in the cold environments of sense and time a full conviction of the special providences by which it is every moment sustained and preserved, and to the evil-doer the certainty of a just and merited retribution.

ARABIAN DAYS' ENTERTAINMENTS.
Translated from the German by S. Pelham Cumpe. Illustrated. In one large volume. 12mo. With Illustrations by Doepler.
This collection of Oriental stories has long been a classic in Germany, but only a portion of them have ever appeared in English. The present translation is believed to be the only faithful and elegant one. The taste for the marvellous will always demand gratification, and the imaginative reader will nowhere find more delightful entertainment, than in these charming pictures of Oriental life and manners. The stories are full of invention and fancy, and gracefully told; at the same time they are free from the objectionable features of their great prototype, "The Arabian Nights' Entertainments."

POPE OR PRESIDENT?
STARTLING DISCLOSURES OF ROMANISM, AS REVEALED BY HER OWN WRITERS.
PAGES FOR THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.
1 vol. 12mo. Cloth, $1.
This volume large has been compiled from new and very important information regarding the dealings of the Papacy in the United States. No work of the kind has ever presented to the American people such a thorough exposé of this corrupt system. It possesses peculiar value, from the fact that its statements are exclusively derived from Romish authorities—being works for the most part inaccessible to the public. It is a book that cannot fail of producing a profound sensation.

DR. HUNTER—NO. 3 DIVISION-ST., PERPOSE IS THE GREATEST CURES EVER MADE. THE ONLY SECURITY AGAINST HUMBUGS AND QUACKS IS TO APPLY TO THE DISPENSARY, NO. 3 DIVISION-ST., NEW-YORK. ESTABLISHED IN 1826.

Dr. HUNTER, No. 3 Division-st., offers to the public the only reliable remedy known in the wide world for the permanent cure and removal of every particle of the rank and poisonous virus of the venereal disease, which is far unlike Hunter's Red Drop, made from the original recipe in the possession of Dr. HUNTER, and not known by any other person living except Dr. HUNTER, at No. 3 Division-st., one door from Bowery, all the attributes of the many poisonous quacks to the contrary notwithstanding. Dr. H. has been over twelve years in the practice of this unexceptionable medicine, with his own hands that has ever been offered for sale for the last thirty years, and has never intrusted any living person with the secret; consequently everything offered for sale as any other place is a fraud, a base and wicked counterfeit, put up by some unprincipled wretch that has neither the make of a doctor, nor pride with the lives of his fellow-man.

OUR PAUPER SYSTEM. [illegible] Committee of the Board of Guardians of the Poor, of Philadelphia, who visited this City some time since, to make a special examination of our system of providing for the Poor, appear to have been very well satisfied with the result of their investigations. On returning to Philadelphia, they made a report of their trip, and gave the opinion that the New-York plan of electing a Board of Tax Governors for a long term was preferable to the fashion followed in Philadelphia, and ended by recommending the establishment of a Workhouse, a House of Correction, and a new Asylum for Lunatics.

PANIC IN A PUBLIC SCHOOL.—A fearful panic was produced yesterday forenoon in the Female Department of Ward School No. 1, corner of Grove and Hudson streets, by the falling of a portion of the plaster from the ceiling. An alarm of fire was also given, which increased the excitement. The frightened pupils jumped to their feet and commenced rushing pell-mell for the door. Nothing but the prompt action of the teachers prevented a recurrence of the fearful Greenwich-avenue catastrophy.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO AN INFANT.—AD THOMAS N. MARRAGH, residing at No. 203 Third-street, was yesterday going down a flight of stairs with his infant son, five months old, in his arms, he made a missstep and fell headlong to the foot of the stairs. The child was fatally injured, and lived but a short time after the accident. An inquest was held yesterday upon the body, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts stated.

POSTPONEMENT OF THE SALE OF THE WILLIAMSBURG FERRY LEASES.—The auction sale of the Peck-slip and Grand-street Ferry leases, advertised by the Comptroller to take place at 1 o'clock yesterday, was then further postponed to the 20th of January next. There was quite a large number of persons present at the City Hall yesterday. No reason for the postponement was made public.

FIRE IN EAST THIRTY-SECOND-STREET.—About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a slight fire occurred in the dwelling-house No. 10 East Thirty-second-street, occupied by Mrs. Forrez, a widow lady. The fire originated in a close closet from a lighted candle. The damage amounted to $100, and is covered by insurance.

THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN UNION.—Dr. OLIVER W. HOLMES will lecture before this Association at Clinton Hall, this evening, on "The Chief End of Man." His poem, last evening, drew a very crowded audience, and his lecture, this evening, we have no doubt, will be equally attractive.

Board of Aldermen.

CENTRAL PARK FUND STOCK—STEAM ON THE HARLEM RAILROAD—MOVEMENT TO REORGANIZE THE FINANCE DEPARTMENT—THE CENTRAL PARK.

The Board met at 4 P. M. yesterday.

A communication from the Comptroller, calling the attention of the Common Council to a communication of July 29, recommending the adoption of an ordinance for the issue of $273,446 05 of 6 per cent. "Central Park Fund Stock," being the amount still authorized for the payment for lands taken for the Central Park, was read. The Comptroller stated in his communication that $1,600,000 of the stock issued in 1856 was payable in the first week in February; the amount unissued would be required for the redemption of the assessment stock of 1850, and as 20 days' notice must be given before the loan could be effected, it was desirable that the ordinance should be adopted without delay. The payments into the Treasury on account of assessments on the Park were something more than $1,000,000, leaving about $300,000 unavailable to the Treasury at this time. The communication was referred to the Committee on Finance.

A communication was received from the Croton Aqueduct Board, asking a hearing before the Common Council shall take any further action with regard to the proposed alterations in the plan of the new Reservoir.

The Committee on Wharves, Piers and Slips reported a resolution opposing the confirmation of the lease of the Pier and North Battery, foot of Hubert street, North River, and in favor of readvertising former proposals for the same. Laid over.

The ordinance permitting the Harlem and New-Haven Railroad Companies to use steam above Forty-second-street for 30 years, was adopted after some debate, (ayes 12, nays 3.) Aldermen TUCKER, WILSON, and MCGROWAN voted in the negative. Aldermen TUCKER presented a remonstrance against the passage of the ordinance. The remonstrance was referred to the Committee on Railroads.

The ordinance provides that, until the completion of the new machine shops at or above Forty-second-street, the Harlem Railroad Company may run their engines with steam, for repairs only, but without any vehicle attached, to and from the machine-shop at Thirty-second-street, for a period not to exceed eighteen months from the date of the ordinance; and that they may lay a double track from Fourth-avenue, through Forty-second-street, to Madison-avenue, and up Madison-avenue to Seventy-ninth-street, or as far as it may be opened, from time to time, for the use of their small cars only. The Company is, also, authorized to lay down, in Fourth-avenue, between Forty-second and Fiftieth streets, two additional tracks, (to enable the two Companies to land and receive passengers there,) and to cover that portion of them extending from Forty-second to Forty-fourth-street; and further, forthwith to complete the title of the Corporation to land on Fourth-avenue, between Thirty-second, Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth streets, by them agreed to be conveyed to the City, and remove the engine-house at Thirty-second street, within six months.

An ordinance to amend the "Ordinance to reorganize the Finance Department of the City of New-York," approved Dec. 13, 1857, was presented by Alderman BOEKE. This document provides that the Comptroller shall be paid monthly, at the rate of $5,000 per annum, and that there shall be a Deputy Comptroller, who shall be paid monthly, at the rate of $3,000 per annum, and who shall be competent to perform any of the duties of the Comptroller, except to sign warrants on the Chamberlain; in the absence of the Comptroller for more than one day at a time, the Deputy is to act as Comptroller; the clerk to the Comptroller is to be paid monthly at the rate of $2,000 per annum; the ordinance to take effect Jan. 1, 1859. It was referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

The Board concurred with the Councilmen in directing that the streets and wharves in the vicinity of Washington Market be cleaned.

The Board adopted a resolution in favor of leasing a portion of a building at the corner of Pearl and Centre-streets at $1,300 per annum, for the use of the Coroner and other officers.

Alderman McGROWAN called up the report of the Committee on Roads, concurring with the Board of Councilmen in adopting resolutions in favor of enlarging the area of the Central Park, and beautifying the streets in the vicinity. The report, which embodies the following resolutions, was adopted:

Resolved, That the Common Council approve of an application to the Legislature, at its next session, for the passage of a law to appoint Commissioners to take for public use, and as an addition to the Central Park, the land included in the plot bounded by One Hundred and Twenty-eighth-street on the north, One Hundred and Sixth-street on the South, Fifth-avenue on the east, and Eighth-avenue on the west; also, to take a strip of land twenty-five feet wide on each side of the Seventh-avenue, from One Hundred and Twenty-first-street to Harlem River, for the purpose of widening and otherwise improving this avenue.

Resolved, That the Common Council approve of the suggestions made by the Board of Commissioners of the Central Park, in their communication of Aug. 24, 1858, with regard to the construction of the avenues and streets adjoining the Central Park, and that the specifications and contracts for the grading of such streets and avenues be made in accordance with these suggestions; that from the centre line of said avenues and streets to the boundary line of the Park none other than good earth filling shall be used within five feet of the surface; that the embankments for streets and avenues hereafter to be constructed adjoining the Park shall be made with slopes upon the Park of at least one foot and a half horizontal to one perpendicular, to such feet of height, and that the faces of such embankments for a depth of at least four feet shall consist of good earth.

Resolved, That the sidewalks of Fifth-avenue, between Fifty-ninth and One Hundred and Tenth streets, be made thirty-five feet wide, and that the owners of property thereon have permission to include fifteen feet in width of the said sidewalks, as widened, for court-yards, similar to the regulations of other portions of the Fifth-avenue, the Corporation reserving the right to revoke said permission when, in their opinion, the necessities of the City require it.

Resolved, That the sidewalk on the east side of the Eighth-avenue, between Fifty-ninth and One Hundred and Tenth streets, be made twenty feet wide.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the Central Park be authorized to take so much of the earth from the plot of land bounded by Fifty-third and Fourth avenues, and Fifty-ninth and Sixty-ninth streets, and the plot between the Fourth and Fifth avenues and Sixty-ninth and Sixty-eighth streets, as they shall require for the improvement of the Park, provided that the grade of these plots shall not be reduced for this purpose below that of the adjoining streets and avenues.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the Central Park be authorized to take so much manure from the streets of the City as they shall require on the Park, and that the City Inspector be, and is hereby directed to reserve all stable manure, dropped such as are now, or may hereafter be, in the Corporation dumping grounds, as said Commissioners or their agents may from time to time designate.

The Board concurred with the Board of Councilmen in adopting the ordinance in favor of opening [illegible] street.

OBITUARY.

A remarkably sudden death occurred recently, at the Parisian Italian Opera House. Mme. Sontag's "Il Barbaresco" was given. Towards the close of the opera the house, Vienna, states the present, Rosina, in the opera, when this event took place, on Saturday night, a slight person was hard by, a lady in one of the grand tier boxes. Her friends around her suppose she had simply uttered the cry in a moment of temporary excitement on witnessing the dramatic events of the stage; but her head was seen to droop, and she was instantly removed. Medical assistance soon arrived, and then, to the surprise of all around, the lady was declared to have expired. She was a person of no ordinary beauty, and about 30 years of age; her name, Sayer.

The sudden death, on the 16th November, of Fran-Johanna Kinkel, has created a painful sensation among her numerous friends in London and Germany. "She was a woman," says the Athenæum, "of no ordinary powers; many of her musical compositions have become popular, and her novels rank among the best of which German literature may boast. Her character had something of the heroic, which, in her eventful life, she had ample opportunity to prove—in 1849, when Dr. Kinkel stood before a court-martial at Rastadt; afterwards during his imprisonment at Naumwerk and Spandau; and last, not least, in an exile of many years."

Col. Albert Pike, of Arkansas, died recently in New-Orleans. He was a native of Boston, and 50 years of age. His first poems, Hymns to the Gods, were published in 1831; others in 1839-40. In 1835 he published an Indian romance, illustrative of the habits of the Camanche and Navajo Indians, and of Mexican life at an early period of the incursions by the Spaniards. In 1854 he issued, for private circulation, a collection of the works on which he was willing to rest his fame. The volume was entitled Hymns. He joined trappers in the Rocky Mountains, where he was nearly frozen, his horse

The Earl of Haddington died at his seat, in Haddingtonshire, Scotland, early in December. On the formation of the late Sir Robert Peel's first Administration in December, 1834, his Lordship was appointed Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, which he held up to the break up of the Government. When Sir Robert Peel again took office in the autumn of 1841, his Lordship was selected for the post of First Lord of the Admiralty, with a seat in the Cabinet. He held that office up to January, 1846, when he was made Lord Privy Seal, and retained that position until the final dissolution of the Right Hon. Baronet's Government.

perishing of cold at his side, and eventually arriving at Santa Fé, undertook to interfere between the judges of the courts there and the public. This gave him a taste of law, and he went to Little Rock, Ark., where he became the owner of the Advocate, married a wealthy lady, and applied himself to the law. In 1836, he was employed to supervise the publication of the "Revised Statutes of Arkansas." Captain of Company "C" of the Arkansas cavalry in the war with Mexico, he took an eminent position.

A letter from Madrid states that the blood of another martyr has been shed in Cochin China. Mgr. Melchior de San Pedro, Bishop of Tricomia, and successor of Mgr. Diaz, has been decapitated at Namdinh, and his body cut into pieces, has been sent to various localities to be exposed to public view. It almost looks as if this dreadful act was a cruel defiance which Tu-Duk, the fanatical sovereign, has given to the Franco-Spanish expedition.

M. PIERRE JEAN DE KOCK, a brother of the celebrated novelist, PAUL DE KOCK, has just died. The deceased was Colonel of the Imperial Guard of the First Empire, an officer of the Legion of Honor, and a chevalier of the order of St. Louis. One of his brothers was formerly Minister of War in Holland.

Mr. Harvey Combe, a well-known English sportsman, died, Nov. 22, at Cobham, aged 74.

Fillibuster Movements—Later from the Schooner Susan.

From the New-Orleans Delta, Dec. 14.

By the bark Oregon, which arrived here yesterday from Barbadoes, we are in possession of later news from the schooner Susan, which escaped from Mobile last Tuesday night.

The Oregon brings with her Lieutenant GEORGE F. WARRE, of the Revenue Cutter Robert McClelland, who was carried away on board the Susan. The Lieutenant has kindly furnished us with the following details:

On Monday, Dec. 6, Lieut. S. B. CALDWELL, and a boat's crew from the McClelland, boarded the Susan, then lying in the bay of Mobile, some six miles above the fleet, and demanded her papers. The answer was that the Susan would wait at the fleet for them. Lieut. CALDWELL made his report to Capt. MEARNSE, of the cutter, who ordered Lieut. CALDWELL to take the Susan to Dog River Bar, and there keep her; and ordered Lieut. WARRE to remain on board until otherwise directed.

Capt. MAURY would not permit this, and Capt. MEARNSE concluded to accompany the Susan to the fleet, and the two vessels went down on Monday night. Here they remained within one hundred yards of each other all night, Capt. MEARNSE having informed Capt. MAURY that if he attempted to go out he would sink him.

On Tuesday morning, about 2 o'clock, both vessels weighed anchor, and sailed about the Bay until 3 o'clock. From 3 o'clock until dark the time was passed in sending and receiving communications from each other. The last communication from the Susan to the McClelland was received at 10 o'clock on Tuesday night. Lieutenant WARRE was then informed that there was an agreement that the vessel should come to anchor for the night, and hearing the anchor chains, supposed the Susan was coming to anchor, and retired to the cabin, and it was not until midnight that he heard the orders that led him to believe that the vessel was still under way.

On returning to the deck, he found the vessel heading down the channel to the Mobile Point light, and discovered that she had not anchored at all, but by letting out the chains had deceived both himself and the officers of the revenue cutter. It was a foggy night, and but one vessel was visible, which was supposed to be the revenue cutter, but this, of course, was a mistake. The Lieutenant then immediately ordered the vessel to come to anchor, but he was informed by Captain MAURY that, though it was the duty of the Lieutenant to make the order, it would not be obeyed. The vessel then proceeded on her way uninterrupted, Captain MAURY stating that she was bound to Greytown, and had Mississippi and Minnie rifles on board.

There were two hundred and twenty men on board, beside the crew. Among them, besides Capt. MAURY, there were Col. FRANK ANDERSON, Col. BELMEAT, Col. MCDONNELL, Major ELLIS, Col. RUMAN, Capt. WEST, and Capt. DRUZ. All the men were armed with revolvers, and there were swords and other weapons on board.

Lieut. WARRE was kindly treated by the officers on the Susan, and remained on board until last Thursday, when he was placed on the Oregon, by which vessel he was brought to this place.

TO DRUGGISTS.

BOSTON, Dec., 1858.

The inventors of the original and genuine "Cocoaine," beg leave respectfully to caution you against imitations of the same by unprincipled persons.

"Cocoaine" was invented by us, its name was adopted as our trade mark (both as it addresses the eye and the ear,) and every bottle sent into the market has been accompanied by a printed notice to that effect.

Our object has been, firstly, that the "Cocoaine" should be in quality beyond competition, and secondly, to offer it at a price within the reach of all, depending upon large sales for remuneration.

We have advertised the "Cocoaine" in the United States and the Provinces, at an expense of many thousand dollars; thus its very name has become a valuable property, and now, before the half of our outlay has been reimbursed to us, certain mean and unscrupulous persons have pirated that name, and are attempting to rob us of our property and our reputation.

We direct your attention in particular to an article manufactured and put up by certain persons in New-York, called "Cocoine," a name obviously adapted to deceive the unwary, (the letter "A" only omitted;) this compound, if mistaken for ours, will tend to break down and destroy the reputation of the genuine article.

Legal redress is sometimes slow, and we appeal to you at once for your moral support by your direct denunciation of such dishonest invasion of our rights.

Very respectfully your obedient servants,

JOSEPH BURNETT & CO.

P. S.—Retail druggists, and dealers generally, are cautioned for their own interests to avoid the spurious compound, the genuine is labelled "Cocoaine," and is prepared only by JOSEPH BURNETT & Co., No. 27 Central-street, Boston.

TUESDAY, Dec. 21—P. M.

The dealings on the Stock Exchange, to-day, with the exception of three or four of the regular Dividend-paying Securities, were much depressed, the two most active, and, until recently, favorite Western Road Stocks, falling to 70 ⅌ cent. for Galena, and 58¾ for Rock Island, with a general eagerness, this afternoon, to press contracts even at these comparatively low figures. The fall in Galena since the August dividend is full 20 ⅌ cent., and in Rock Island, since July, about 17@18 ⅌ cent. The temporary decline in the traffic of these lines, which, for the time, is unquestionably serious, rather than any financial trouble in either Company—both being free from all floating debt or other embarrassment—is the cause of this rapid depreciation. There was renewed heaviness in Illinois Centrals, the shares touching 66½, and the Construction Bonds 84 ⅌ cent., seller 60 days. The Free Land Bonds which sold, this morning, at 87 ⅌ cent., were done at 86 ⅌ cent. at the Second Board. The two Michigan Roads and Toledo, varied but slightly from yesterday's sales, and the Michigan Southern Bonds were in better request. The State Stocks were weaker on Missouris by ¼@¾ ⅌ cent., but otherwise steady. In New-York Central the dealings were lighter than usual, and the price varied through the day only ¼@½ ⅌ cent., closing 83¾, as against 83½ yesterday afternoon. A number of the Street speculators against this stock appear to have become somewhat tired of its power of resistance, and within a day or two past are pitching their contracts more particularly against weaker mettle, or where the public confidence, from the temporary suppression of Western dividends, is supposed to be less in the way. In like manner, there is more caution observable in selling against Panama, Delaware and Hudson, and Pacific Mail, although the disposition to do so, and difference of views as to the future of the market, are not wanting in the present temper of the general market. Panama closed 120@120¼; Pacific, 90¼@90¾; Delaware, 96¼; New-York Central, 83¾@¼; Galena, 70¾; Rock Island, 58¾; Illinois Central, 66¼@¾; the market dull.

There is every indication among the Banks and Discount Brokers of continued ease and a steady confidence in the working of the Money market. Prime long bills were placed to-day at 5 ⅌ cent., which is about the minimum through the past Summer and Fall. The rates for prime and fair names, range, according to date, and the partialities of the lender for particular names, from 5 to 7 ⅌ cent.; and 30@60 day prime acceptances from 4 to 4½ ⅌ cent. The usual stir among borrowers on the eve of the holidays is scarcely felt this season, if at all. The Bank Deposits continue to go steadily up, and the probability is that the accumulation of distant balances in New-York will be further considerably increased in January, although in the meantime some large disbursements will be made for State interest. The additional transactions in Exchange for the Persia to-day, were to 109¼@109¾ on London, and f5.17½@f5.13¾ on Paris. The market closed dull and some houses of Southern drawn Francs were left over, though offered down to f5.17½. The Bullion shipment by this opportunity is reported $650,000.

The bids for $800,000 City 6 ⅌ cent. Central Park Improvement Stock were opened yesterday by the Comptroller, and were as follows:

1. Amasa Wright, for $5,000	101.33
2. H. Meigs & Smith, for $20,000	101.05
3. J. L. Lewis, for $10,000	101.00
4. Ward & Co., for $300,000	100.70
5. H. Meigs & Smith, for $10,000	100.68
6. F. Harmony's Nephews & Co., for $95,000	100.50
17. Charles H. Russell, for $300,000	100.48
8. H. Hendricks and Others, for $85,000	100.13
9. Mariners' Savings Institution, for $20,000	100.00
10. Brooklyn Savings Bank, for $50,000	100.00
11. J. L. Lewis, for $10,000	100.00
12. Continental Insurance Company, for $25,000	100.00
13. J. G. King's Sons, for $300,000	101.25

The stock was awarded to the first four named bidders. The proposal of Messrs. KING'S SONS, says the Evening Post, was not accepted. Their bid to receive the stock at once and pay the money down for it, was not considered to be in consonance with the terms of the advertisement.

The following half-yearly Bank Dividends have been announced: Broadway, 4 ⅌ cent.; Mechanics', 4 ⅌ cent.; New-York, 3½; Manhattan, 3½; and Tradesmen's, 4 ⅌ cent.

Notwithstanding the fact that the Philadelphia Banks were debtors last week to New-York, and some Gold was drawn in settlement, the weekly statement of the Banks of that City shows a trifling increase on the Specie line.

The following is a translated extract from Messrs. DE COVERY & CO.'S Money Circular for the Persia:

"Our last advices are dated 7th inst. Our Stock Market has since then been to a certain extent affected by the various political rumors from Washington, but its course has been irregular, prices of State Stocks having advanced, whilst those of Railroad securities have generally receded. The decline is quite marked on the Western Railroad shares, their traffic returns continuing to be unfavorable. Illinois Central Railroad bonds and shares have again experienced a serious decline, it being asserted that some parcels of these securities have been returned from England for sale. A portion of the recent rapid advance on Erie Railroad bonds has been lost. State Stocks,—Missouri 6s have risen ¼; Tennessee 6s, ¼; Virginia 6s, ½, and California 7s, ¼ ⅌ cent. New-York, Ohio and Indiana stocks are but sparingly offered, and are quoted an fractional one 1st January. Indiana 6s have advanced 1½ ⅌ cent. Sales of the 1874 Government loan have been made at 104¾. City and County Bonds.—There has been a fair demand for the better descriptions, but of these there are but few offered for sale. There have been sales in moderate sums of Brooklyn 6s, Chicago 6s, Louisville 6s and Detroit 7s, all issued for water purposes. Chicago Sewerage 7s and Cleveland 7s, without any material change in prices, and of Memphis guaranteed 6s, St. Louis City 6s and St. Louis County 7s, at an advance on previous quotations."

Messrs. MARIE & KAHN' Circular for the steamer has the following reference to the business of the fortnight:

"The business in stocks continues on a limited scale, and, owing to the circulation of exaggerated political rumors of no serious significance, fluctuations have been frequent, resulting, on the whole, in a decline. The Government Loans and State Stocks have alone remained firm, with a slight advance in some instances. Western Railroad shares, which are particularly influenced by the reduced receipts which continue to be reported, have experienced a marked decline, ranging from 1@4 ⅌ cent. In consequence of the low quotations received by the last arrival from London, Illinois Central shares have experienced a fall of 7 ⅌ cent., and the bonds 5 ⅌ cent. Purchases of our stocks for foreign account have ceased for some time past. The Money Market, notwithstanding the close of the year, presents every sign of extreme abundance, although we have to report increased firmness in rates. Money—Very abundant. Loans on call 3@5—mostly at 4. First-class paper 4@5 ⅌ cent. Names less current, 6@8 ⅌ cent. Treasury notes 4½ ⅌ cents., 100@100¼, interest added. Exchanges—Firm; moderate transactions. London, 109¾@109¾. Paris, 5f 16@5f 13¾."

Messrs. GAMMAGE & Co. remark that

"The leading features of the Stock Market continue much the same as at the date of our last report of 7th inst. Money is still very abundant, at low rates of interest, and, except a moderately increased movement—in which the public have little or no participation—in the more speculative descriptions, business in Stocks continues exceedingly dull. State Bonds and other productive investment securities have, however, rather an upward tendency; but Railroad Shares, on account of the discouraging character of the traffic returns, particularly on the Western lines, are generally heavy. In some cases there is a material decline from our last quotations, caused in part by the late unfavorable accounts, regarding American Stocks, from London, and the return of Securities for sale in this market. State Stocks have had a slight upward tendency, and continue firm at the close. The business of the fortnight has been very moderate, except in Missouri 6s, of which there have been considerable sales at 89@89¾@88¾@89¾. Of United States Loans there have been small sales of 5s, 1853, at 104¾@104¾, and of 6s, 1874, at 104¾, the market for the latter being steady, but without animation. The Secretary of the Treasury has given notice that proposals will be received until 24th prox. for the remaining $10,000,000 of 5 ⅌ cent. stock, to be issued in coupon bonds, payable to bearer, and redeemable in fifteen years. For Railroad Bonds prices have generally receded, and in some cases materially, the transactions continuing on a very limited scale. For Railroad Shares the market has been moderately active, the transactions, however, being almost entirely speculative, and the course of prices rather irregular. In some cases the fluctuations have been very slight, and the present quotations are about the same as those given in our last report; but the Western shares are generally considerably lower, in consequence of their continued light receipts. The greatest decline is in Illinois Central, (8 ⅌ cent.,) caused by the lower quotations from London, and an unusual pressure of stock upon the market. The Money Market is unchanged, the supply continuing abundant at low rates, both on call and for discount of first-class paper. The advance in European Exchange has led to larger exports of gold, the shipments for the fortnight amounting to $1,618,050. There has also been a considerable amount of coin remitted to the South. The receipts of gold from California were $1,031,511. The Bank returns show a decrease in specie of $798,849, and an increase in loans of $716,666. Foreign Exchanges are firm. London rather higher."
